Key Course Differentiators

Yokohama

YOKOHAMA

Set on Yokohama's waterfront around Yamashita Park, this course is flat, fast, and exposed to coastal weather. The race is usually less about elevation and more about making the right group, staying safe on wet roads, and arriving at T2 ready to run.

COURSE FEATURES

- Sea swim from a pontoon start on the Yokohama waterfront.
- Flat urban multi-lap bike course. Positioning and handling are key with likelihood of rain and wind.
- Flat 10 km run where podium decisions usually come down to a large group starting the run together off the bike
- Rain and wind are recurring variables; 2025 bike result was shortened to 37.2 km.

HEALTH & WATER QUALITY RISK FACTORS

- Water Quality: No public Yokohama race-week illness cluster or swim cancellation found.
- Athlete Health / GI Risk: No known history at Yokohama
- Water Temperature: Historically cool/borderline in May: ~17.5–20.2°C. 2024 women: 19.8°C wetsuit allowed; 2025: ~20.1–20.2°C and wetsuit forbidden.
- Heat / Humidity: Air temp is usually moderate (17–22°C), but humidity can spike >90% in wet years. 2024 women had the warmest listed start conditions at 25.4°C.

Travel & Arrival Load

Denver, CO → Yokohama race week

Core travel read

Denver to Tokyo (NRT) offers a direct 12h flight helping make this long-haul travel more manageable. With a significant 15-hour time zone shift plan arrival multiple days in advance to help get on a proper schedule before the race.

Host Hotel / Official Accommodation Read

- Official 2026 accommodation link lists four hotels: Rose Hotel Yokohama, Hotel New Grand, THE GATE HOTEL YOKOHAMA by HULIC, and Citadines Harbour Front Yokohama.
- Best race-logistics read: THE GATE / Hotel New Grand are closest to Yamashita Park; Rose is Chinatown side and walkable; Citadines is by Nihon-odori with kitchenette / laundry-style athlete value.
- Quality read: THE GATE is newest (opened 2025) and reviewed as clean/modern; New Grand is premium/historic; Rose is convenient but more dated; Citadines is strongest for longer stays/self-catering.
- Price: public snapshots vary by date; recent OTA examples show THE GATE from ~$120/night and Rose from ~¥22,000 for 2 guests with breakfast.

Food / Grocery Options Near Hotel + Venue

- Best grocery targets: Motomachi Union and Bio c’ Bon in Motomachi for premium/imported/organic staples; Maruetsu Petit Yamashita Koen and My Basket Yamashitacho for quick basics near the park.
- Budget/larger stock-up: OK ShinYamashita is ~900m from Motomachi-Chukagai and works better for volume groceries, drinks, snacks, and simple room food.
- Convenience backup: FamilyMart / 7-Eleven / Natural Lawson around Motomachi-Chukagai and Ishikawacho for water, rice balls, yogurt, coffee, and emergency snacks.
- Food read: Safe. No major food concern risks for travelers.

Yokohama

RACE HISTORY AT YOKOHAMA

Yokohama has been a consistently fast Olympic-distance race on the circuit. Swim separation is usually limited, with most years putting 20–35 athletes within 15 seconds of the swim leader. 2019 and 2025 were the exceptions, with smaller groups making the bike more selective. The race is usually decided late, with a low-29-minute 10 km often required to win.

3 KEYS TO SUCCESS

1

Good but not great swimming. Do what is needed to be in the front pack, but do not expect the swim alone to create a small race-winning group.

2

Expect rain and wet roads. Bike handling, cornering, and staying near the front of the group are critical.

3

Plan for a large group into T2. A ~29-minute 10K is likely needed to fight for the podium.

ELITE WOMEN

Race Overview — Elite Women

Yokohama

RACE HISTORY AT YOKOHAMA

The women's race at Yokohama has usually been more selective than the men's race. The swim matters more because the first athletes out of the water often form the key breakaway. The 2025 race was different, with heavy rain and a shortened bike bringing a larger group into T2, but the winner was still present at the front all day. Winning times usually sit from 1:51–1:54.

3 KEYS TO SUCCESS

1

Swim near the front to give yourself the best chance of making the likely break.

2

Be ready for poor weather and high-stress bike positioning. Missing the front group can turn the rest of the day into a chase.

3

To win, expect to need a sub-33:30 10K unless the front group builds a major bike advantage.
